GERMANS DRIVEN BACK AT SALERNO

HERSHEY PUTS

for Marion Race Movie ScenesHollywood Crew Busy As Special Race Meet Opens; Fairgrounds Spruced Up with Paint and Shrubbery.

First scenes for "Home in Indiana," a technicolor motion picture production based on George Agnew Chamberlain's novel, "The Phantom Filly," were filmed this afternoon at the Marion county fairgrounds in connection with the inaugural session of a three-day harness racing program arranged especially for the film production.

Key members of the cast of the all-color movie went over script under the direction of Director

Henry Hathaway this morning at their Marion headquarters in Hotel Harding. June Haver and Jeanne Crain, Twentieth Century-Fox starlets who are playing the leading feminine roles in the production went through make-up following rehearsal of the script.

Director Hathaway called an early luncheon for all of the 94 persons in the large company, and the cast, headed by Walter Brennan, Ward Bond and Lon McCallister, was in position at the fairgrounds about 1 p.m.

Grandstand Shots

Grandstand shots, scenes of the crowd and closeups of the leading actors and actresses seated in their grandstand box were among the first scenes filmed by Technicolor Cameraman Eddie Cronjager, one of Hollywood's foremost color photographers, when "shooting" started shortly after 1 o'clock.

These scenes and scenes of the 12-dash racing card made up the main part of today's movie production schedule. Director Hathaway, who soared to fame as director of "The Bengal Lancer," yesterday said that filming early tomorrow morning would begin around the fairground barns, especially at the barn which the script calls for use by "Sparkie" (Lon McCallister) and his super trooper, "Maudeine Four" (Miss Sarah Abbott owned by Walter J. Michael of Buena Vista).

Again to-morrow afternoon principal scenes will be made around the grand stand.

To Remain Several Days

The movie company is scheduled to remain on location here until next week when it will move to the historic Walnut Hall Farms at Lexington, Ky., and then to the estate of the late James McGowan at Mt. Sterling, Ky.

The midwestern phase of the costly movie undertaking is due to be completed late in October. About three weeks of additional work will be required in Hollywood to complete the production, a studio spokesman reported.

The fairgrounds was a bee-hive of activity this morning as upward of 505 workmen rushed to completion big and little jobs which had to be completed before the fairground's movie career could be launched this afternoon.

In keeping with Hollywood tradition that nothing is impossible, a gang of workers yesterday removed a tree from one part of the fairgrounds and replanted it in the infield immediately opposite the grandstand.

Painters Busy

Since the company arrived yesterday workmen have painted the roofs of the barns to the east side and northeast end of the track a deep red. The front of the grandstand has been painted gray, the bottom section of the electric light poles along the inside rail of the track have been painted yellow and parts of the steel frame work of the grandstand have been trimmed in red.

Shrubs and flowers have been planted in the infield immediately opposite the grand stand.

Meanwhile horses representing some of the key stables in the country continued to arrive at the fairgrounds.

Frank M. Foster, secretary of the Marion Trotting Association, announced that Dr. H. M. Marshall, nationally-famous driver and for 13 years top racer in the Grand Circuit, would serve as presiding judge.

Serving as starter for the meeting is Harvey H. Hartman of Quaker Hill, Pa., who has served as a race official here for several years.

Clouds of Planes!

Remember the tragic appeal of the little French Premier, Reynaud, as his beloved country fell before Hitler's screaming Stukas:

"Please, hurry. Send us clouds of planes. Please. Please."

The clouds of planes are now over Europe. They are War Bonds with wings. We must have more and more planes until the skies are literally black with our planes. Invasion is made easier, less costly as the bombs drop. The Third War Loan campaign is now entering its second week. How many War Bonds with wings have you bought? But for these fighters of the skies you could not sleep easily tonight. The invasion battles overseas in which your flesh and blood is being sent are being turned in our favor—your favor.

Wilson of 925 Uncapher avenue, patrolman, left last month for service with the Seabees and is stationed somewhere in Virginia. Justin Cornely of 765 Congress street has resigned to join the police force of the Chesapeake &amp; Ohio Railroad Co. and Glen Obenour of 269 Madison avenue resigned from the force Sept. 10 to join the Erie Railroad police force. Lewis Shadaker, patrolman, has enlisted in the Seabees and expects to leave soon for duty.

Wilson has been on the force since Sept. 1, last year. Cornely joined the force July 15, 1942 and Obenour received his appointment as patrolman in 1940. The force has been reduced from 25 to 20 men. Chief W. T. Morris said.

IN WIDESPREAD
RAIDS BY RAFAttack Follows First Major
Night Blow by American

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 16.—American Flying Fortresses followed up an inaugural dusk raid on Hitler's Europe and probably the allies' biggest night assault on the continent bombed naval installations at Santes in France today in their second foray in two days.

London, Sept. 16.—Berlin was bombed last night in a widespread Allied aerial assault which included a heavy raid on a vital rubber factory at Montlucon in France and followed evening attacks on Paris and craft plants and surrounding French air fields by U. S. Eighth Air force squadrons making their first dusk flight.

It was the first attack on Berlin since the pre-dawn hours of Sept. 4 and presumably was carried out by the RAF's swift Mosquito bombers which pummeled the German capital between the saturation attacks by fleets of four-engined craft.

Other RAF bombers struck at additional targets in northwest Germany, the air ministry announced.

Montlucon, only 43 miles northwest of Vichy, was the principal target of the night-flying formations which concentrated on a factory supplying much needed tires for Hitler's war machine.

The Vichy radio said the town of Chartres, scene of one of the biggest battles of World War I, also was attacked, but the British announcement made no mention of this.

Last night's raid, first since the Sept. 6 attack of Munich, followed by a few hours the first after-dusk assault by a combined force of American Flying Fortresses, Liberators and Marauders which raided the Poitiers area. Here the Hispano-Suiza and Caudron-built aircraft plants and a ball bearing works were the main targets.

London Bombed

At the same time German air raiders subjected suburban London to one of its severest bombings in months. Some casualties were caused in the Greater London area but the only bomb which fell in the city proper dropped in a football field now used as a community garden.

The raid on Paris marked the first time that Fortresses, Liberators and Marauders had joined in the same operation in the European war theater and the first time they had gone out and come home after dusk. Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, commander of the U. S. Eighth Air force bomber command, pronounced the experiment a success and presaging the possibility that they would soon team up with the RAF in bombing Europe by night.

18 Planes Lost

Last night's operations cost the RAF eight bombers and two fighters, the air ministry said. One enemy plane was shot down.

While other night bombers were staying at Berlin and northwest Germany, RAF fighter squadrons attacked enemy air fields and transport targets in intruder operations over France.

There was no indication that the Berlin raid, apparently carried out by light Mosquito bombers, was anything like the saturation attacks with loads of 1,000 tons of explosives, the last of which was made against the German capital Sept. 4.

The burst of widespread activity in the past 24 hours ended a lull in the extensive Allied air activities against western Europe which followed the climax of an eight-day non-stop offensive against the continent a week ago.

Service Awards Presented by Commanding Officer.

Approximately 650 officers and employees of the Marion Engineer Depot and friends attended an anniversary party in celebration of the first year's activities at the depot, last evening at the Hi-Way Auditorium. Highlighting the program of entertainment and dancing was presentation of merit pins and other awards to employees in recognition of services and accomplishments, by Col. G. E. Woodruff, commanding officer of the Marion Engineers Depot.

In an informal talk in which he congratulated the entire personnel on its cooperation and achievements of the year, Col. Roberts presented merit pins to 10 of the oldest employees in point of service, 10 employees for the best attendance records for the last six months, and words of慰勉 to five employees for various personal achievements.

Marion Soldiers Separated Over 3 Years Meet in Cairo

ton, who is based in Africa as a chief aircraft mechanic. Ward Poorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Poorman of Ground street, who is a sergeant stationed in Africa together at Patterletter, Sgt. Sens said, "I was sitting in the lobby of Cross hotel in Cairo when I entered the hotel. I was so tired I couldn't talk. When face to face, he was as tall as I. But we soon got along well and had a swell time talking over old times and of Tunisia. The package arrived from where we left off last week and the fragment of two years ago."

The letter was dated Sept. 4, and apparently the meeting had been just a short time before.

Sgt. Sens recently sent home a swastika shot from a German plane that took part in the battle

BUCKEYES,

Look into Your Heart before you give me your Answer!

MY NAME isn't important. I'm just one of the millions of fellows over here fighting for America. I'd like to speak for these fellows—to you folks back home.

You see, I think I know what's in their minds, because we often talk things over among ourselves. Mostly we talk about home—about the places we came from and the things we plan to do when we get back. Right now, especially, we're thinking a lot about home, for we're in the bloodiest battles of history—and we know that some of us will not come back. Some of us will never see again the ones we love.

But—we've got a job to do and we're going to do it. What I want to say to you folks back home is this: we'd like to think that you are with us in this bitter struggle of invasion. It would help a lot to know that you are really behind us, backing us up 100 per cent. It's going to take a heap of ammunition—and ships and planes, tanks and guns, to beat the Axis. That's what the 3rd War Loan is for; it's for INVASION. Most of us fellows in the service are putting every dollar we can into War Bonds. But you folks back home will have to carry the big load. We've got to depend on you. Don't fail us, will you?

Yes, it's to you this boy is looking in this critical hour. Today America calls upon you to do your part in the 3rd WAR LOAN. And your part is at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond during the drive. AT LEAST $100. That's in addition to your regular War Bond subscriptions. Invest more if you possibly can—some of you must invest thousands in order to reach our national quota. Invest out of your income—invest out of your idle or accumulated funds.

Remember, this money must come from individuals like yourself. Each and every one must do his share.

Let's do it the American way—willingly, gladly. Do it with the knowledge that you are putting your money into the safest investment in the world—to be paid back with interest by your government.

Sacrifice today—you will be richer for it tomorrow. Back the invasion now—buy at least one extra $100 War Bond in September.

Your Answer is Either "Yes" or "No" in this Roll Call of the Nation—

YES

I will honestly do my best to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond during the 3rd War Loan Drive. I will lend my Government this money gladly to back up our fighting men.

NO

I am not lending any of my money to my country. I'm spending it. Sure, I know the boys who are fighting for me need support, but let somebody else make the sacrifices.

Your answer will be given in the number of EXTRA War Bonds you invest in during September.

Better T-Bone Aim of Stockmen in New Type Steer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 16.—They aren't boasting. They steer by the yard, yet, but that day may come on northern Wyoming cattle ranches where breeders are pointing toward enhanced beef producing meat animals.

Tom Moss, owner and head wrangler of Rafter-63, one of Sheridan country's "showplaces" and his neighbor, husky Allen Fordyce, predict that continued research and stud breeding will establish firmly the "comprest" line of Herefords—a critter carrying much more meat in ratio to bone.

Extremely broad of hip and shoulder, the "comprest" steer is a thing of beauty in terms of pure T-bones and porterhouses. They are at least one ax handle in breadth where streamlining might otherwise be desired.

But they pack more and tender choice cuts of beef, say the breeders, and that's the payoff.

Intensive breeding for this type of cattle started on the Little Red river ranch of Cowman Roy Armstrong in New Mexico. Around 25 years ago this breeder invested his total savings of $300 in a squat, chunky cow, on which his and other herds were founded.

The theory of "comprest" breeding, the cattlemen explain, is to produce in successive generations the strongest desired points—short stocky legs; noted in calves only a month old, and extremely broad hips.

More T-bone, less saponine—that's the "comprest" objective, Moss and Fordyce frankly

Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Troupe To Present Friday Performances at 2:15 and 8:15 P. M.

Tomorrow will be circus day in Marion, with the "biggest show on earth" providing the entertainment.

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus will start rolling into Marion tomorrow morning at the Bennett street crossing, coming from Lima on the Erie railroad.

It will move to the Drake lot on East Fairground street for performances Friday at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. The doors will open at 1 and 7 p. m.

The circus management reports that the thousands of tons of equipment carried by the big show include 41 tents, 267 wild animal cages and baggage wagons, nine electric light plants, a cookhouse serving 4,800 meals, subject to rationing, and that its personnel totals 1,600.

Its next stop after Marion will be Mansfield.

Heading the circus animal attractions are Mr. and Mrs. Gargantua the Great. This season's performance will open with a feature billed as "Hold Your Horses," a reproduction of the circus street parade of 1898. "Let Freedom Ring," billed as an attraction in which nearly 800 persons participate, will be presented as a tribute to the United Nations. Other features announced by the management include a promenade of 50 elephants, the American debut of Lalage, Continental aerial ballet star, and the finale, "Drums of Victory."

The Clown Fire House and the aerial act of Victoria and Torrence, Alfred Court and his wild animal show, the Shyrettes, unicyclists, the Flying Concellos, Comets and Randalls, the Naito sisters on the tight wire, and the Wallendas of tight wire fame are among the stars to perform. There will be three rings and two stages in use most of the time during the big show.

The circus this year is using a new all-white, six-pole tent with a seating capacity of 14,500 persons.

At both performances, blocks of seats donated by the circus to support the Third War Loan drive will be occupied only by purchasers of special war bond tickets.

Sleeping Bag Helps Author To Solution of Housing Problem

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Martin M. Goldsmith is a one-man solution to the housing shortage.

Goldsmith, 29, author of three novels and a world traveler, told how he ticks the housing problem in such overcrowded places as Washington or San Diego, Cal. He does it with a sleeping bag. "You can live in comfort anywhere," Goldsmith said, "if you just revise your ideas of comfort. I've frequently been without a dime in my pocket, but I've never been without a place to sleep."

While he was traveling thousands of miles in this country and Mexico, sleeping in park, on roadsides or in abandoned houses, Goldsmith wrote three novels, part of a fourth which he has almost completed, and a number of magazine articles.

"I think the ideal combination for making a man entirely independent would be a sleeping bag, a typewriter, a station wagon and a telescope for star gazing," he said. "He could charge for use of the telescope and in that way get enough money to buy gas for the station wagon and food."

Goldsmith's sleeping bag has not made life entirely a bed of roses for him.

"I've had my up and downs," he admitted. "My wife left me. That was something of a blow. She wanted security, so I bought her a station wagon. Before that we had done our vagabonding in an old car."

This was not enough for a security-loving woman, Goldsmith said. He came home to the station wagon one night to find she had taken their accumulated capital of $1,000 and furnished an apartment. That was too much. They separated. Goldsmith said he did not object to apartments. He often rents one, and sleeps in it. But furniture, which you have to keep your feet off, is more than he can stand.

Goldsmith, who believes he has written the only novel about happenings in an American city during an air raid, said vagabonding is necessary to his blood and to his literary efforts.

"If you just sit around wondering how you are going to have time to write a novel you never have time," he said. "The thing to do is to be the novel—and let things like laundry, food and taxes take care of themselves."

Goldsmith began traveling when he was about 18. Since then he has remained in one spot only a few weeks, with the exception of the time he spent at Ithaca College studying English and how to write plays.

Gas and No Coupons!

By The Associated Press

SALEM CROSSROADS, S. C.—RESIDENTS of this mid-state community had a field day when they found gasoline seeping through the top soil.

It all happened after a truck with 3,700 gallons of gasoline overturned in a cornfield. Residents, alert to the possibility of obtaining gas without the benefit of coupons dug through the mud and gasoline drained into pits in the hard clay beneath.

Several hundred gallons lost from the truck were "saved," to be carried away in tubs, pots, pans, bottles and pitchers.

Private Show

By The Associated Press

LAWRENCE, KAN.—H. C. Webb doesn't have to step out of his home if he wants to be entertained by a good, old-fashioned fast-jiggin' minstrel show.

He has things arranged so that he can enjoy all the buck and wing and other clowns by just putting his foot. For the past two years, the barber has perfected what he calls his "Midget Minstrel Show" and today can make his home-made puppets keep perfect time to any tune he happens to pick out on his mandolin.

His trick lies in a panel in the little stage which is connected by a long rod to a pedal strapped to Webb's foot.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

"Jeep Nerves"—that's what Dan O'Neill calls the jumpy way some folks react to the strain of wartime living.

Not that Dan blames 'em. When you work 12 hours a day and travel in crowded busses—live in trailers and put up with inconveniences—it's only natural to get tense and irritable.

"Folks must learn to relax," says Dan, "and take it easy."

And Dan thinks he has the formula. Soon as he's through at the shop he comes straight home, picks out the comfortable chair and pours himself a tall, cool glass of beer.

Then he sips it—slowly and appreciatively—like good beer should be enjoyed.

And by the time that glass of beer is gone, Dan says his disposition is as good as new... and the day's work seems well worth tackling again tomorrow.

It's a real effective formula. I know; I've tried it!

PAIR ARRESTED IN SERIES OF THEFTS

One Fined on Charge of Receiving Stolen Property.

John Frazier of 250 Senate street, 23-year-old former Lima Negro, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of receiving stolen property from another Negro. Frazier, 30, of 920 West Center, at Columbus, Ind. A checkup revealed that originally 39 thermometers were in the shipment. A further check of second hand stores and rooming houses in the west part of the city uncovered all but one of the thermometers.

The parcel post package was stolen, police learned, on Monday night from a station wagon at the Union station.

Freeman Frazier is being held at city prison for postal authorities. Although both men have the same last names they are not related, railroad police said.

Paul Frazier of the railroad police force said today that when their men all of the vases and the top-of-the-line was reported to his coat have been recovered. While searching for the missing items, two colored men were arrested. One of the two men, he said, was taken into custody between the Union station and the glass works. There police officers found clothing, some of the vases which were enroute from Rutherford, N. J., to a drug store at Columbus, Ind. A checkup revealed that originally 39 thermometers were in the shipment.

Marion Man Scheduled for Return To Screen as "Bit" Actor

Role for Marionite

Expected to be one of the extras' to be hired by the Twentieth Century-Fox studios for 50 parts in "Home in Indiana," scenes of which are currently being filmed at the Marion county fairground is Tom Darling, a Marion man who for more than 10 years played small parts in Hollywood movie production.

Among the roles played by Mr. Darling during his long stay in the cinema city was a minor character part in one of the early productions of Henry Hathaway, who is directing the filming of "Home in Indiana."

Mr. Hathaway and Mr. Darling, known on the screen as Henry and Darling, renewed their acquaintances shortly after Mr. Hathaway's arrival in Marion yesterday morning.

A large number of other Marion residents will also be used in extra roles, Mr. Hathaway said. In a single day at Fremont, as many as 150 "extras" were used.

Shows for Soldiers

During a lull in production of the movie at Fremont Monday night members of the cast staged shows for soldiers stationed at Camp Perry and the Five Points Guard.

Two members of the cast, Walter Brennan and Charles Dingle, have been in the armed forces.

As a result of unfavorable weather conditions at Fremont several days were lost on the biggest day of the Sandusky country fair cloudy sky in the afternoon, so scenes of operations. By the same reason shooting was rescheduled on two other days.

Because considerable time was lost as a consequence of unfavorable weather conditions, the entire troupe worked Sunday. Weather permitting it is expected that the troupe will work next Sunday.

Busman's Holiday

While in Fremont the two stars of the picture, Walter Brennan and Ward Bond, attended "Swamp Water" at a Fremont theater. The two acted in the film, made in 1941. Brennan is described by fellow actors as "a nice kind of a practical joker." As he and Bond returned to their trailer seeing the film for the first time, Brennan remarked, "My Golly,

"Why are the Twentieth Century-Fox stars filming scenes for "Home in Indiana?"

That's a question asked many times since it was announced more than a month ago that racing scenes for the $2,300,000 technical production would be made here during a special three-day harness race meeting.

Actually, there are several reasons.

Probably the principal reason is that the Fox studio wished to photos the picture under actual conditions, something not staged, as are most Hollywood products. The studio wished to put into the picture the real story of the track. Of course, this might have been achieved to some degree on a Hollywood set or at a western track, but to get the real story, the real conditions and the real people it was necessary that the film be photographed in the midwest where the sport is more than just a game, where it is an industry.

Now the next logical question is why was Marion picked from other midwestern cities?

The reason is that Marion is rising to prominence as one of the nation's harness racing centers. Counting the current meeting three separate race programs will have been staged in Marion this year.

Besides the fact that Marion is near the top as a racing center, another reason for Fox's decision to film here was the fact that the city has long been the center of sulky manufacturing.

Even more important than this is that facilities at Marion offered excellent opportunities for the filming of the track saga. In making a tour of the grounds yesterday morning Director Henry Hathaway pointed out to a group of assistants and technicians that the Marion layout was chosen in preference to other tracks because of the fact it appeared more like a professional plant than any other site available to the studio.

The movie makers' only objection to the local site is its present rundown condition. The poor condition of the grounds and buildings is more evident than ever before. Approximately one-half of the background plant is in fairly good condition. The section in mind is that west of the race track. The track and the barns to the east and northeast of the half-mile oval are sadly in need of attention.

CORN CHAMP ENDS LIFE

By THE Associated Press
CHILLICOTHE, O., Sept. 18.—The Ohio corn husking champion in 1931 and 1933, William Anderson, 53, hanged himself at his farm near Clarkburg, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Malon reported.

Anderson, who plays the role of a harness horse owner in "Home in Indiana," is rounding out his forty-first year as an actor. For many years an actor on Broadway, Mr. Dingle was brought to Hollywood to play the part of "Uncle Ben" in "Little Foxes." His work in this film established him as a top name. Since then he has played in "Johnny Eager," "Are Husband Necessary," "Somewhere I'll Find You," "Talk of the Town," "George Washington Slept Here," "Lady of Burlesque," and "Edge of Darkness."

Jeanne Crain . . . before breaking into the movies was a vocalist with the Freddie Martin and Ted Fio Rito dance bands. June, a native of Cincinnati, made her first stage appearance at the tender age of seven as a guest pianist with the Cincinnati symphony orchestra. At the age of eight, she was screen-tested but mama thought she was too young to do anything but play with her sisters.

At 14 she appeared with Freddie Martin's orchestra and the following year, under a national tour with Ted Fio Rito's band. She was signed to a movie contract at the age of 16 by the Fox studio but almost immediately was dropped because she looked like 14. Only recently she was re-signed. Along with Jeanne Crain and three other starlets under contract, to Twentieth Century Fox, she is being groomed for stardom to replace some of the studio's leading actresses who have joined the movie city's growing list of matrons.

Jeanne Crain . . . is entirely different from Miss Haver. On the screen she neither sings nor dances but is perhaps best known for acting ability alone. Movie cameramen describe her as one of Hollywood's loveliest subjects. Before entering the movies she was a model.

Willie Best . . . is a Negro swine in "Home in Indiana." It is he that convinces win "Spark" (Lon McCallister) to bring the Phantom Flyer into the world. Among the pictures in which he has appeared are "Straight Place and Show," "Whispering Ghosts," and "A Hunting We Will Go."

Robert Condon . . . an extra role player for sometime won a minor part in "Private Hargrove" and for his work in that picture was awarded a supporting role in "Home in Indiana." During his youth Condon excelled in boxing, bicycling in New England. He was turned down by the Navy a year ago because of an enlarged heart.

High-Ranking Movie Talent in Marion-Made Race Picture

Brennan, Bond, McCallister, Dingle and Others Among Best Players in Film Supporting Roles.

"Home in Indiana," the saga of a nondescript colt's rise to the pinnacle of harness racing, although a $2,000,000 undertaking for Twentieth Century-Fox players is not as might be expected, a movie crammed with stars.

In fact, it might be said that no member of the cast could be classed as a bona-fide star. True, Walter Brennan, Ward Bond and Lon McCallister, the screen play's featured performers, are well-established figures in the cinema field. But not even any of these men hold the coveted ranking of star.

Nevertheless, the star-less picture is destined to become one of the leading 1943 productions of the Fox studios. A great deal of time, money and patience is being expended by the studio in the hope of absorbing real race track life in the technicolor production.

An Award Winner

But while the play is being filmed without one or another of Hollywood's top men or women, it is being made with an Academy award winner, something that 75 per cent of the Hollywood productions can not claim.

Of course, the distinguished actor is Walter Brennan, who won a coveted "Oscar" for his performance as a supporting actor in Samuel Goldwyn's 1936 hit, "Come and Get It."

Brennan, a native of Massachusetts, started out in technical settings, but soon deserted these ranks in favor of a career in vaudeville. This right-about-face decision was in 1915. He immediately was cast, despite his youth, for old man parts and these have been his principal parts ever since.

When the war broke out, Brennan enlisted at Boston and several months later was sent to France, where he remained for two years, nine months of which he served at the front line.

Raised Pineapples

After the war he decided to forego the stage and went to Guatemala to start raising pineapples. He did very well in this field, retiring after only four years. In 1923 he came to Los Angeles and became a part of the famous real estate boom. He amassed a fortune but in the crash in the late twenties lost it all.

Because of his youth casting directors refused to take him seriously about his ability to play the parts of old men. Eventually he edged his way into the industry by contacting a casting office while dressed in his old man makeup. It so happens that a gas attack during the war destroyed Brennan's teeth and he wears dental plates. By removing them from his mouth he suddenly takes on the aspect of an 80 year old, although he is not yet 40.

Hitler's Revival of Fascism Act of Desperate Man

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

One of the finest services Fuehrer Hitler could render the allies is his revival of the fallen and dismored Fascist regime under the control—or so the Nazis say—of its old master, Mussolini.

The United Nations had carried out their aim of smashing Fascism. The collapse of the incompetent and corrupt government exposed the Fascist rule to the world for exactly what it was—a dictatorship of countries, and against their grievously wounded neighbor, but made themselves and their mistresses vastly rich by plundering their own people.

The vast majority of Italians, while heart-broken over the straits to which their country has been reduced by Mussolini's wickedness and stupidity, nevertheless have been rejoicing that they finally have been rid of this nasty old man who personifies the "soft underbelly of Europe." No price is too great to purchase freedom from such a tyrant.

Life for the Dead

Now along comes the arch-goonster of them all and sets up a little puppet government in the name of Fascism. He tries to give it life by announcing that Mussolini himself is the Quisling of this revival—a statement which certainly requires ocular proof before the world will accept it as truth. At this writing the whereabouts of the ex-dictator is a great mystery, and it's even rumored that he's dead. If he is, the devil has a new pal.

Anyway, die or hollie live in his terror, the duce's usefulness is about the same. This puppet "government," which is a stage-play affair, will drag out its brief existence, to provide a further striking demonstration of the folly of Mussolini's Fascist fancies. It will clinch the argument for the overthrow of Fascism and Nazism and the establishment of democracy in their stead.

Why is Hitler, thus exhibiting Fascism in its nakedness and soaking the chance of weakening his own dictatorship? Well, there are several reasons, all of them understandable. In the first place he is, of course, playing for time, and so is trying to fool the world for a brief period into the idea that Fascism really isn't dead at all but is still of potent influence and a tower of strength to the axis.

The all highest is particularly anxious to convey this impression to the Balkans. He is trying frantically to prevent further disaffection among his Balkan satellites, whose allegiance to the axis has been due in considerable measure to Italian influence. He also wants to reassure his home front that all is still well in the axis camp. And he figures that his ruse may provide some discouragement for allied peoples.

Playing for Time

It is a stunt which the Nazi dictator scarcely would try under normal circumstances. However, he is fighting with his back to the wall to save his own position. He can't have the slightest expectation of putting Fascism back on its feet permanently, or of preventing the allied conquest of Italy.

Still, he is gambling that he may create a delay, and hesitation in the enemy camp, which may enable him to discover some fresh ray of hope. His position has become so grave that in undertaking this dramatic propaganda he really has little to lose and everything to gain.

Time is Hitler's ally right now. Already the autumn rains have begun in Russia, and this may give his desperate armies a respite from the disastrous hammering they are getting from the Red forces. Every passing day lessens the danger of an allied invasion of western Europe, because of weather conditions. Each hour that he can hang on enables him to repair broken fences.

Looking at the matter from that light, Hitler's scheme is a smart one.

BRICKER TO ATTEND PARLEY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—Speculation about a Japanese attack on Soviet Russia reviewed here today with unconfirmed reports from Chungking that a border clash—the first reported in some time—had occurred along the Mongolian frontier.

The Chungking report said the incident occurred north of Pailin-miao, a Japanese-controlled inner Mongolian desert settlement below the border of outer Mongolia, which is an autonomous republic dominated by Soviet Russia.

Pailin-miao is a strategic base position for the Japanese if they should be planning a lightning drive across the Gobi desert through Ulan Bator, the outer Mongolian capital, to cut the trans-Siberian line in the vicinity of Lake Baikal.

American Leads Chinese on Jap Raid in Burma

By The Associated Press

NEW DELHI, Sept. 16—Chinese troops trained in India and led by an American routed a band of 200 Japanese in a daring foray into the wild Naga hills country of North Burma recently, it was announced today.

The Chinese were equipped at Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's Chinese-American training center and were under the command of Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Bodner of New Orleans, La.

The raiders pushed on behind enemy lines and blew up supply depots and bridges along the Japanese communication route. A communiqué said Chinese infantry and motor units were active.

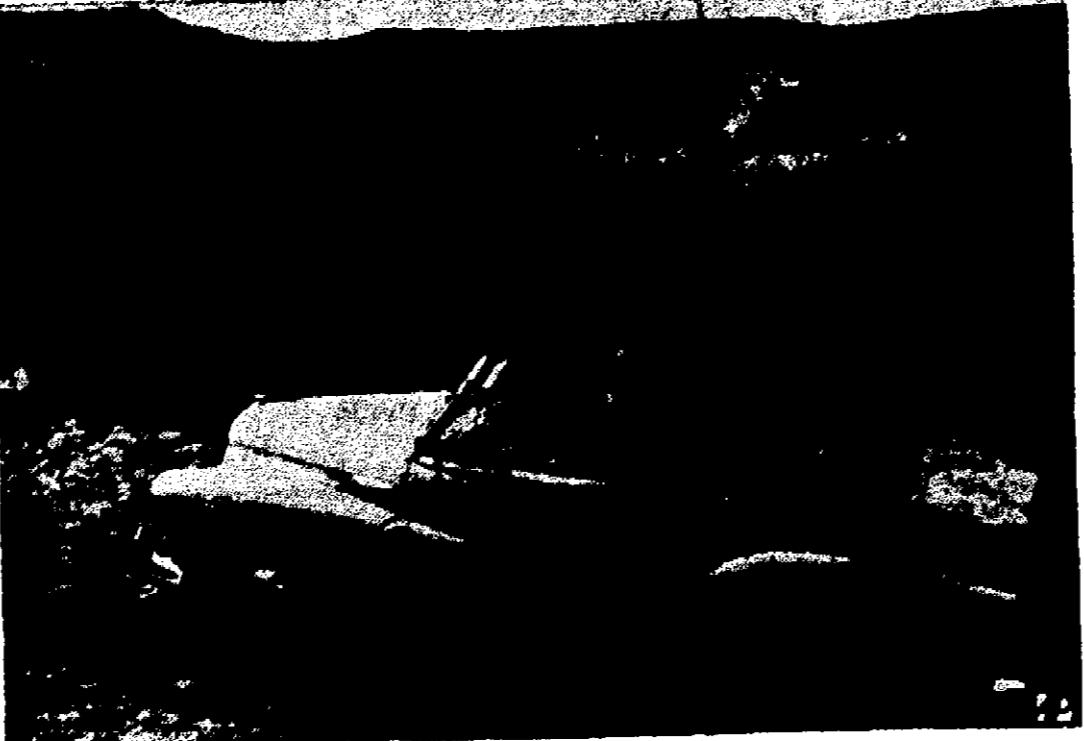

Heavy casualties were said to have been inflicted upon the Japanese before the raiding force withdrew. Chinese losses were reported as light.

President To Open War Funds Campaign

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—President Roosevelt will make a radio address Tuesday night, Oct. 5, to open an annual campaign for the National War Funds, Inc.

The White House said today Mr. Roosevelt would talk briefly on a program beginning at 10:30 p.m. EWT.

block the roads with bomb hits, destroyed a bridge, strafed several big, six-wheel German vehicles loaded with troops and blew up a supply dump near Piernino.

Bomb Tonnage Great

As during the preceding day, far more than 2,000 sorties were flown and an official said that the bomb tonnage rained on the Germans was "vastly greater than anything ever dropped on a single target area before in this war theater. It has been vastly greater than the tonnage dropped on Pantelleria, and the heavier load of bombs dumped on that island before it surrendered was three times the tonnage ever dropped in an enemy raid on London."

German pilots again avoided combat wherever possible and anti-aircraft fire was relatively light.

Four allied planes were missing from the two days' total of far more than 4,000 combat flights, a percentage of loss so light it amazed aerial combat veterans.

Five German Focke-Wulfs were destroyed yesterday while attempting sneak-run raids on the Fifth army's landing beaches. They were shot down by P-40 Warhawks.

Report Vatican City Surrounded by Nazis

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, Sept. 16—An Italian border dispatch to the Lausanne Gazette said today that German troops advanced with antitank guns and machineguns, were preventing persons from entering or leaving Vatican City.

"A dozen mobile antitank guns have been placed in St. Peter's square at the base of the grand stairway of the Basilica, while machineguns were installed along the celebrated colonnades," the dispatch said.

German parachute troops have mounted guards around Vatican City to check all contacts between Rome proper and the Holy See. It was reported the dispatch said it now was impossible for faithful Italians to obtain permission to pray in St. Peter's. These measures were taken, an Italian crowd was told, to check the entry into Vatican City of anti-fascists seeking refuge within its precincts.

Further Gain Listed in School Enrollment

With additional registrations each day, enrollment in the city's elementary, junior and senior high schools is increasing, figures at the office of Supt. E. E. Holt show. Today's enrollment figures total 5,533. Enrollment by schools is as follows:

Forest Lawn, 170; George Washington, 164; Glenwood, 400; Greenwood, 209; Mark, 368; North Main, 220; Oak, 236; Oakland, 394; Olney, 263; Pearl, 346; Silver, 383; Central, 639; Edison, 508; Vernon Heights, 351; Harding, 864.

The enrollment still is below the opening day's figures last year which were 5,585.

1944 FOOD PROGRAM 2 Marion Co. Draft ON CONGRESS SLATE Boards Expect To Call Fathers Soon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—Both the White House and congress took up the 1944 food output problem for minute examination today, and perhaps some action to insure an adequate diet for the nation besides meeting huge foreign commitments.

Marvin Jones, war food administrator, accepted an invitation to outline for the house agricultural committee Monday his ideas for next year's farm program. Chairman Fulmer, Democrat of North Carolina, said the committee and the farmers want to know "just who from now on will have the definite power over the food output."

The food subject occupied the attention of President Roosevelt who met with his advisers and with leaders of the major farm organizations yesterday.

A 1944 program involving a somewhat lower level of guaranteed farm prices—and hence fewer government subsidies—may be the outgrowth of those discussions.

The farm leaders brought from the Presidential meeting assurance they said, that subsidies—which most of them oppose—would be used sparingly.

This assurance may indicate that the administration is planning to make some changes in its price support program.

The government aimed to guarantee farmers above-ceiling prices, buying at higher price and re-selling at a lower figure, taking a loss on the difference. Reports have been circulated that the administration planned to ask Congress for at least a billion dollars to cover such losses.

The National Grange and the American Farm Bureau Federation, as well as some congressional farm-bloc leaders, object to such a program. They asked for ceilings based on the support prices.

Officials of the war food administration (WFA) said that elimination, except in the case of a few special items, of supports in excess of ceilings appeared to be the only way of meeting objections of the subsidy critics. The President, they said, is determined to hold the line on prices.

Latest official figures show that the general level of farm prices is 17 per cent above parity. Parity prices have been defined as those equally fair to producers and consumers.

Senate Committee

Given New Milk Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones will lay before the senate banking committee tomorrow a critical milk production problem which, if unsolved, might lead to consumer rationing of fluid milk this winter and to higher ration values on butter, cheese and canned milk.

The shifting nature of the hard-fought engagement was indicated by earlier field reports that the Germans had been forced to make a limited withdrawal from the wedge they had driven at the center of the allied bridgehead near Eboli and apparently spent were digging in the higher ground, and by later reports that the German attack still was on the increase.

(A DNB broadcast from Berlin said German troops had stormed Persano, at the mouth of the Sele river, indicating a claim to the splitting of the allied front. Seventeen American tanks were destroyed and 700 prisoners taken. The German communiqué made no such claim, but declared landing heads were further narrowed.)

"When storming Altavilla, Americans lost numerous dead and prisoners," the communiqué said, adding that the German air force destroyed an 8,000-ton transport and damaged 11 more ships of the landing fleet.

The witness replied that while the Navy accepted many 17-year-olds for enlistment, many others were rejected because they were not mature enough for service.

Senatorial opponents of the father draft gave ground today before the unanimous testimony of military leaders that the armed forces will have to put nearly a half-million family heads into uniform this year to make victory certain.

While Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) remained publicly confident that he can win approval next week of legislation to postpone the induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers until after Jan. 1, there were signs that the high command's opposition had made inroads into the ranks of the bill's supporters.

Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, who has professed neutrality on the program, told reporters he thought the Army had "made a good case" for its contention that it can not get the 630,000 men it claims to need from Jan. 1 without taking fathers. The alternative, they said, would be to disrupt war production by inducting essential single men from war industries.

Twenty-eight additional small units of the Italian navy were said to have arrived at Palermo, Sicily.

THE U. S. FIFTH ARMY was reported consolidating after warding off vicious German counterattacks with the aid of Allied reinforcements rushed to their aid in the Salerno area. The British Eighth Army was meanwhile moving rapidly up both sides of the Isle of Capri (A).

Call Fathers Soon

A check of Marion county draft boards today revealed that two of the boards will have to call a few pre-Pearl Harbor fathers in the October draft unless an equal number of enlistments are received to complete the quota for the month.

Board 1 announced that it will delay the call as long as possible in the hope that enough enlistments will be received to release the fathers from the October call. If no enlistments are received approximately nine pre-Pearl Harbor fathers will be subject to induction from that board, serving Wards 1, 2 and 3. The board also announced that it had sent approximately 20 letters notifying registrants that induction would result unless they registered for employment in an essential industry.

Board 2 serving Wards 4, 5 and 6, stated it had sent approximately 100 notices to registrants who were engaged in non-essential work. The report from the latter was incomplete concerning the October quota but it was announced that it might have to call a few fathers to complete the quota if enough enlistments are not received.

Board 3 announced it had not notified any registrants concerning a transfer to essential activity and also stated there would be no fathers called in October from its area, which is all of Marion county outside Marion city.

The U. S. Employment Office said that many of the registrants who had received notices from the local boards had registered at the office during the last 10 days.

FATHER DRAFT

posed legislation to postpone or cancel plans for drafting pre-Pearl Harbor fathers after Oct. 1, Jacobs disclosed that on Aug. 1 the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard had 2,352,209 male officers and men on active duty, plus 39,868 female personnel.

He placed the requirements on Dec. 31, 1943, at 2,935,234 males and 74,297 females, for a total of 3,009,531, and listed the following needs for male personnel from September through December:

September 138,618, October 147,196, November 125,274 and December 121,274, or a total of 532,362.

"If the Navy is to be expected to carry out its mission in this effort, and if ships and aircraft now under construction are to be manned, it is necessary that these personnel be produced according to schedule," Jacobs said.

Jacobs reported that on Aug. 1, this year, 27 per cent of the Navy personnel was married (116,480 officers and 347,263 enlisted men) and of that group, 35 per cent were fathers, (40,768 officers and 120,848 enlisted men).

In response to a question, Jacobs stated a lowering of the draft age from 18 to 17 would "increase the percentage of rejections considerably."

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) tossed this new angle into the second day of the hearings.

Asserting that "some have advocated" the induction of youths of 17 in preference to taking pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, Reynolds said his question was intended solely to obtain Admiral Jacobs' views.

The witness replied that while the Navy accepted many 17-year-olds for enlistment, many others were rejected because they were not mature enough for service.

Senatorial opponents of the father draft gave ground today before the unanimous testimony of military leaders that the armed forces will have to put nearly a half-million family heads into uniform this year to make victory certain.

Another defendant is Donald Wakefield Smith of Washington and Pittsburgh, a former member of the national labor relations board.

All six defendants were described as officers and directors of Engineers Group, Inc., with offices in Washington, Chicago and Boston.

Curley, long prominent in Democratic politics, is a former governor of Massachusetts and former mayor of Boston. He is a member of the Democratic national committee.

chief of staff, and Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson.

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the fleet, sent Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) a statement declaring there could be no decrease in the number of men to be furnished to the armed forces "without serious detriment" to operations that are now under way or in process of mounting.

He added that troop needs for 1944 necessarily would increase over 1943.

ANOTHER NAVAL WITNESS

The committee plans to obtain a further expansion of the Navy's viewpoint from Vice Admiral Frederick Horne, vice chief of naval operations. It will hear Monday from Gen. George S. Marshall, Army chief of staff, on the latter's return from a trip to Mexico.

Wheeler said his views had not been changed by the testimony of the military leaders, adding that they had "said almost the same thing when the matter of farm defense was being considered."

Reynolds told reporters that Canada had testified at a closed session that Canada had 632,000 men in its armed force out of a population of 11 million, and that the British Isles were furnishing 40,000,000 men, or about 10 per cent of their population. Senator Downey (D-Calif) contended, Reynolds said, that California had contributed 600,000 men to the armed forces out of a population of a little more than 7,000,000.

Good but Inexpensive Meal

By ALICE DENHOFF

NUTRITION goes hand in hand with the menu these days and it has become a matter of vital importance to plan meals around the basic seven nutritional requirements listed by government experts.

Here is a meal that cleverly includes the necessary foods, that can appear proudly before the most exacting gourmet yet it is simple and inexpensive. Mint syrup juice starts off the menu, followed by the main dish of crisp liver cubes with onion gravy on brown rice. Broiled herbed tomato slices, watercress and cu-umber salad, then for dessert, ice cream with fruit sauce.

If you like beef or pork liver and want it to approximate calf liver in flavor, cover the liver with a cup of boiling water to which a teaspoon of vinegar has been added, and let stand for 5 minutes before draining. Have butcher slice one pound liver. Cut in one-inch cubes. Blend ½ cup flour, teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, ½ teaspoon paprika, teaspoon dry mustard and 4 teaspoons savory, if desired. Dip liver cubes in flour mixture so that every one is well coated. Reserve any flour remaining. Fine slice 2 onions and sauté in tablespoons fat until golden color, and place to one side of skillet. Add 4 tablespoons fat and fry liver cubes until they are cooked through and crisp. Remove liver cubes from skillet. Dissolve one bouillon cube in ½ cup hot water, and add to onions and drainings in pan. Thicken with seasoned flour remaining from coating liver cubes. Serve liver and gravy over cooked brown rice and gravy over cooked onions.

We will be glad to advise you of your personal obligations under the new "Auto Financial Liability Law" effective Sept. 20.

For dinner on short notice a FISH GRILL is delicious. To serve 4, place 4 small individual fish fillets washed and dried, in a shallow greased baking dish. Add 4 halves, firm peeled tomatoes, 4 cooked white potatoes, 4 cooked onions and 4 cooked carrots. Brush the tops lightly with 3 tablespoons French dressing. Cook 6 inches below a glowing heat, or in a moderately hot oven until well browned. Turn and brown the other sides. Baste every 4 or 5 minutes with 2 tablespoons margarine or butter melted in 1/4 cup boiling water with 1/4 teaspoon each salt, paprika and celery seed added. ## TOLEDO ASKS STUDY OF SCHOOL FINANCES

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 16.—Agreement of the Toledo board of education and striking non-educational employees to call for a state study of the board's financial problems was seen today as a possible first step toward reopening of all public schools here.

Leaders of building service and maintenance workers unions said they would call union meetings to ratify the agreement although the 65 schools affected were not expected to reopen before tomorrow at the earliest.

The walkout began yesterday after union heads said the board of education refused to raise salaries to compensate for increased living costs. Although the Toledo Federation of Teachers did not take part in the strike, its AFL affiliate also has asked for salary increases. The board has said its financial position would not permit raises.

Twelve hundred teachers and 40,000 pupils were affected by the strike.

The requested pay increases chief engineers $400 to $8,000 a year; elementary school engineers $380 to $3,000; junior high engineers $400 to $2,800; engineering repair and maintenance men $600 to $2,700; and firemen and others $30 a month to $219.

CHECK B AND C CARDS
CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—District offices have been instructed to participate in a nationwide audit of "B" and "C" coupons issued for essential driving purposes, the regional office of price administration announced today, as part of a drive to reduce gasoline consumption. Vincent S. Bishop, Cleveland district officer, said most ration boards will be only "spot-checked," unless indications point to numerous excess mileage holders.

Delegates appointed by Noble Grand Virtue Blawell, Vice President, Elmer Grimm, One Garverick, and William Black; members and program, H. F. Galli, L. M. Newander and Earle Peik; Krebs, J. L. Armstrong, Ollie Foreman, C. Marshall, John Steller and Harold Kramer.

D. W. Klahn will act as general chairman.

The walkout began yesterday after union heads said the board of education refused to raise salaries to compensate for increased living costs. Although the Toledo Federation of Teachers did not take part in the strike, its AFL affiliate also has asked for salary increases. The board has said its financial position would not permit raises.

Twelve hundred teachers and 40,000 pupils were affected by the strike.

The requested pay increases chief engineers $400 to $8,000 a year; elementary school engineers $380 to $3,000; junior high engineers $400 to $2,800; engineering repair and maintenance men $600 to $2,700; and firemen and others $30 a month to $219.

Harding Practice Set Under Lights

Harding High's gridiron and practice under the lights at Harding stadium ton night in the first night football of the season and the next to last game prior to the Mansfield Tygers' games Saturday night.

Tonight's workout will get under way about 7:30 and probably will last an hour, Coach Joe Dorris said today.

The initial attending rehearsal will consist of just drill and practice on fundamentals and other fundamentals. But the real objective of the practice is to accustom the Hardingers, some of whom have never performed under the lamps, to playing at night.

The various President plays, and you can bet your bottom dollar, Dorris and Joe Leyden, his mentor, have some fancy work to spring on the Tygers Saturday.

It will be run off in a speedy and precise on-the-line manner tonight.

According to Dorris, the Presxies have improved 25 percent in practices this week. According to his calculations, all the boy in the starting lineup will improve another 25 per cent to defeat the Mansfield outfit.

Following the inter-quadruped practice game last Friday, Dorris estimated an improvement of at least 50 percent could have to be registered by Harding to come out on top over the Ligers.

Monday and Tuesday, the Presxies, both backs and linemen, were tested on their timing especially in the r respective plays assignments. Dorris commented he was well satisfied with his progress in that phase of the game.

The Presidents at least seem to have their timing down pat.

Yesterday, blocking and defense work were stressed through the almost two-hour late afternoon practice session. It seems that Harding's pigskinmen need more reviewing and practice in their tackling than anything else.

Tomorrow afternoon, Harding will hold its last practice before the season opener Saturday night, set to start at 8 p.m. Defensive maneuvers will comprise practically all of that final preparation drill, Dorris said.

If Dorris and Petrich think

Take Part in Movie Races

CHARLES FLEMING

BEN WHITE

HARRY FITZPATRICK

THESE THREE nationally-famous harness racing drivers are in the spotlight this week as Marion enjoys its third race meeting of the season. Fleming, popular Gothen, N.Y., pilot, has four horses here, while Ben White, who only recently notched his fourth Hambletonian victory with Volo Song, has two ready for Saturday's session. Harry Fitzpatrick is top kick of the biggest stable on the grounds—14 head in all, including the pacing marvel, King's Counsel, purchased recently from Dr. H. M. Parsnall.

St. Mary Drills for Willis

St. Mary footbalers have been zipped through intensive practice this week in preparation for the 1933 Irish opener against Delaware Willis' Black Panthers at Delaware tomorrow night.

The Irish have been under the supervision of Line McCrane, appointed St. Mary athletic director last month. All drills since practice started Aug. 20 have been held at Lincoln park.

The Saints have been exhibiting a steady upswing in power during recent drills and are going to be a good match for the Dela-

PARSHALL IN ROLE AS PRESIDING JUDGE

Races, Inaugurated Today, To Continue Through Saturday.

Dr. H. M. Parshall of Urbana, who is best known for his remarkable records on the track, is in a new position this week as the trotters and pacers race here for the Twentieth Century-Fox studios.

At the three-day race meeting which opened with a matinee program today "Doc" is serving as presiding judge. This is one of his first assignments in this phase of the harness sport. Since he began to reduce his stable, once the world's greatest, a couple of seasons ago, Doc has appeared frequently in the role of starter.

For 13 years, the match-chewning Urbana veterinarian led the Grand Circuit. Twice he captured the rich Hambletonian purse. Probably the greatest horse he ever developed was the bare colt King's Counsel which he recently sold to E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., for $20,000.

Here is the racing program on tap for the two remaining sessions at the fairground twice-around.

Tag Team Mat Match On Armory Program Tonight

For tonight's Armory wrestling program, Matchmaker Les Fishbaugh has booked a tag team match between Gil LaCrosse and Al Pasha and Jack Reeder and Wild Bill Zimovich.

The one-hour-semi-final match which is slated to get underway at 8:30, marks the return to Marion of a mat star formerly a great favorite with local giant and crowd enthusiasts. He is Pat Riley of Texas. Pat has been signed to oppose Carl (the count) Von Lehman in the one-hour opener.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

RONALD started as if he had been suddenly poked with a stiletto, and his haunted eyes opened, fixing themselves upon my father.

"A letter to Carolyn?" he repeated. "What do you want me to say?"

"Very little. We'll reveal every thing that's necessary to her when she arrives," my father said. "Just tell her to get ready for an immediate trip down here, and to be ready to start at a minute's notice. I will get in touch with the dean of women, with whom I have an understanding." My father smiled slightly, and I knew he was thinking of the safeguards his position had enabled him to place around this feather-brained friend of Marion's.

Carolyn To Be Guarded

"Tell Carolyn the dean will not tell her that I wish her to come down, and will send a trustworthy woman with her, so that we will not have to spare one of you. I also will have a guard unobtrusively in the background every inch of the way. But do not tell Carolyn that. Simply tell her a woman will come along with her for protection."

He paused for a second, then went on, with his infinite attention to detail.

"Tell her," he resumed, "to arrange with some friend to get her letters and forward them at once special delivery, here. Then tell Carolyn to write to your mother immediately, saying that she will be very busy with special exam-

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Varicose Veins

CORRESPONDENTS frequently write me some such query as: "What is the treatment of varicose veins?" The very framing of the question shows a fundamental misconception. There are very few diseases for which "the treatment" can be applied. One of them is not varicose veins. If success is to be achieved, the case must be studied from every angle and the proper treatment which fits the individual case applied.

The injection treatment is popular and widely used. The principle of this treatment is that the inside walls of the vein can be irritated by a solution injected into them; they grow together obliterating the vein.

The injection treatment is applicable to most cases of varicose veins and the result in most cases is good. The great advantage to the patient is that hospitalization is not necessary, nor any prolonged absence from work, because the injections are carried out in the doctor's office and after a period of rest after the treatment the patient can walk out.

There are some contradictions to injection and in such cases a surgical operation under local anesthesia is indicated. It is here that the experience and judgment of the surgeon are so useful—in the selection of cases in order to achieve ultimate success.

Gives Noel Assignment

"They also serve who only stand and wait," he quoted "and just now, I'd like that to be your role. If you can't stay here with Ronald, so you can answer any telephones or calls, I'll be very grateful. Just convey to anyone calling that we're all very much engaged. You'll have to use your own judgment on what messages to deliver."

"I'll do my best, sir," Noel said simply, but I guessed he knew, as did the rest of us, that his assignment was really to see that Ronald was not left alone with his torturing fears for Marion.

"I know that, lad," my father answered. Then he moved toward the door.

"Ah, Richard; right with me, I see," he said appreciatively as my husband stationed himself beside him. "And we're on our toes too, Grandpa Spencer," Mary said with a saucy grimace at him, as she and I moved toward the bedroom door. I think sometimes Mary will wrinkle her nose at Gabriel when he sounds the last trumpet.

"I know that, my dear," my father said, smiling at her, and then he and Dicky went out of the outer door into the corridor. Mary and I went into the bedroom, and looked at each other with sudden tense attention as the door closed behind us.

Mary Is Nervous

"I don't know how you feel," Mary said, "but if I don't stretch out and unkink my nerves for a minute or two, I'm going to scream."

"I could do with a little unkinking myself," I told her smiling, so we settled down to lounge for a few moments in opposite chairs, with our legs and feet sprawled in comfortable but inelegant fashion.

"Shut your eyes!" Mary adjured me in a whisper, "and don't even think for two minutes. Then we'll tackle that 'personal' business."

I obeyed her, wondering if she might not drop off to sleep unheeding. I relaxed, but counted seconds to myself. Mary, however, must either have counted also, or else she called on her marvelous sense of timing, for when two minutes had elapsed, she pulled herself into a sitting position and drawled:

"Do you happen to remember how those 'personals' were addressed?"

ARTICLES, are conditions of the latter half of life. Under present conditions of war, living elderly people will naturally be called to take places at tedious standing jobs, which throws a strain on the veins of the leg and conduces to the greater frequency of varicose veins.

The mere presence of varicose veins is an indication for treatment because if allowed to go on, they develop complications such as the formation of clots in the veins, which is a hazard to the circulation, and they also produce bad nutrition in the skin with the eventual formation of ulcers.

MESSAGE TO MOTHER

By The United Press

FOR SMITH, ARK.—Considerable excitement was caused here when many residents reported seeing someone parachute from a four-engined bomber which circled over the city. The "parachutist" turned out to be a handkerchief with the corners tied together and attached to a small iron bolt. Written on it were the names of the bomber's ten crew members and a note requesting the finder to deliver it to Mrs. Cockream of this city, mother of the ship's co-pilot.

There are some contradictions to injection and in such cases a surgical operation under local anesthesia is indicated. It is here that the experience and judgment of the surgeon are so useful—in the selection of cases in order to achieve ultimate success.

Varicose veins constitute quite a serious health menace. The condition is very common. A survey of over 500 employees of a large department store showed that 40 per cent of the men and 70 per cent of the women had varicose veins. This preponderance on the female side is not entirely due to child bearing, although that is undoubtedly a factor in the production of varicose veins because after the women who had borne children were eliminated there were still 60 per cent of the female employees with varicose veins.

Varicose veins are a form of degeneration of the circulatory system like hardening of the arteries. It would seem that men are more likely to degenerate on the arterial side and women on the vein side of the circulation because in this same group of department store employees 44 per cent of the men showed calcification in their arteries and only 18 per cent of the women. The entire series serves to show how prevalent circulatory degeneration is.
